

CABLE DESIGNER

A unique opportunity to embrace technology, travel within Ontario, and work outdoors.

Come work at a rapidly growing engineering firm that is staffed with industry experts, has great benefits, and prides itself on developing our people.

The Company

Planview Utility Services is an engineering firm that provides engineering design, sub-surface investigation and geographical information related services to telecommunication companies and electric utilities. Our workforce is a mix of veterans of the industry and youthful enthusiastic technical resources. We have pride in our collegial culture and host multiple regular corporate sponsored social activities. Our embrace of the use of technology plays a large part in our success.

The Position

As a Cable Designer, you will:

- Ability to do telecommunication designs for fibre to the home, manhole rebuilds, utility relocations, etc.
- Knowledge of Network X, cable counts, duct structures
- Attend customer meetings
- Perform field work to verify existing plant, gather measurements for aerial and/or buried designs
- Have a valid drivers license and an insured vehicle
- Ability to problem solve, prioritize and meet deadlines
- Understand and work within the policies and procedures for the client
- Quality check workplans
- Work as part of a team and mentor fellow peers
- Communicate in a professional manner

The information you gather will then translated to CAD and be used in the engineering design.

The Location

Planview Utility Services has 3 offices – Markham, London and Ottawa. Our clients and their projects are based throughout the province. Travel is important to this position, and you may be working east, west or north of the GTA based on our clients' needs.

Why You Should Apply

If you like to work as a part of a team, work alone, travel, contribute to infrastructure builds, work outdoors, receive competitive compensation, and be trained in current practices, then you should apply.
